CRAFTY FAMILY FUN AT SPINNEY PLAYCENTRE

Families will be able to have a go at making mosaic trivets, wax designs and decorative wall hangings at family play and stay sessions at Peterborough City Council's Spinney Playcentre, Hartwell Way, Ravensthorpe, Peterborough, on Thursdays throughout November.

Families with children aged between five and 13 will be able to have a go at making mosaic trivets at the playcentre on Tuesday 12 November 2009. A Batik wax design and painting session will take place on Thursday 19 November 2009, followed by the chance to make decorative wall hangings on Thursday 26 November 2009. Each session is free to attend and takes place between 3.15pm and 6pm. Children must be accompanied by an adult or guardian (aged 18 years or over) to attend the sessions.

Open play sessions for children aged five to 14-years also take place at the playcentre on Tuesdays during school term-times between 3.15pm and 6pm and on Saturdays 10am – 1pm, then 2pm until 5.00pm. This will be a Children only Zone, No Parents. Children who would like to attend the free sessions need a completed registration form.

Cherry Lester, Peterborough City Council's locality manager for the north, west and rural areas, said: "Spinney Playcentre offers a friendly and fun environment where children can play safely within a fully enclosed site. With the dark nights upon us it's a great place for children to have fun with their friends or enjoy being crafty with their families."

Ends.
